Equitation Rules and Regulations

- Equitation is the art or practice of horse riding or horsemanship. More specifically, equitation may refer to a rider's position while mounted, and encompasses a rider's ability to ride correctly and with effective aids. This is not a timed event.
- Riders may be asked to demonstrate a test while in the flat class and or asked a appropriate question based on their riding level.
- There is to be no "ring side" coaching during any equitation classes. Riders are being judged on their knowledge.

Dress code:

- White polo or show shirt
- Tan or white pants
- Black gloves
- Hair neat in helmet or braid
- Shirts tucked in with a belt

Medal Classes

A Medal class is an over fences round where riders will have to demonstrate multiple tests within the course. If the rider forgets to preform one of the tasks it ill be counted against them. Any riders that go off course will be disqualified from that round and will not collect any points for that round. The courses will be posted by the in gate at the ring. Riders will be allowed to walk the course at the beginning of the class. Tests that may be asked to be demonstrated in the medal class are listed bellow.

Medal Over Fences Tests:

- Trot a jump
- Halt
- Roll back to a jump
- Back up
- Hand gallop a jump
- Sitting trot

Flat Tests:

- Figure of eight at the canter or trot, demonstrating a change of lead and or diagonal as the rider changes direction.
- No stirrups
